ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 2089

Introduced by Assembly Member Quirk
(Coauthors: Senators Anderson and Jackson)

February 20, 2014

---

An act to amend Sections 6203, 6220, 6300, 6301, 6305, and 6340 of the Family Code, relating to domestic violence.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 2089, as amended, Quirk. Domestic violence: protective orders.

The Domestic Violence Prevention Act authorizes a judicial officer to issue a protective order after notice and a hearing for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of domestic violence and sexual abuse and ensuring a period of separation of the persons involved, based on an affidavit showing reasonable proof of past abuse. The act defines domestic violence as abuse perpetrated against specified persons, and further defines abuse within that context. Existing law requires, under certain circumstances, the clerk of the court to submit the proof of service of a protective order directly into the Department of Justice Domestic Violation Restraining Order System.

This bill would instead authorize the issuance of a protective order after notice and a hearing for the purpose of preventing acts of domestic violence, abuse, and sexual abuse and ensuring a period of separation of the persons involved. The bill would provide that, in determining whether to grant or deny a protective order, the length of time since the most recent act of abuse is not, by itself, determinative. The bill would also require the trial court ~~to issue or deny a protective order~~ if the court denies a petition to issue a protective order, to provide a brief statement of the reasons for its decision ~~to issue or deny a protective order~~ either in writing or on the record.

Existing law authorizes the court to issue a mutual order enjoining the parties from specific acts of abuse if both parties personally appear, each party presents written evidence of abuse or domestic violence, and the court makes detailed findings of fact indicating that both parties acted primarily as aggressors and that neither party acted primarily in self-defense.

This bill would provide that, for the purposes of these provisions, a court should consider specified provisions relating to dominant aggressors in determining if both parties acted primarily as aggressors.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes.
State-mandated local program: no.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

- 1 SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the
- 2 following:
- 3 (a) Every person has a right to be safe and free from violence
- 4 and abuse in his or her home and intimate relationships.
- 5 (b) Domestic violence is a pervasive public safety and public
- 6 health problem that affects people of all income levels, cultures,
- 7 religions, ages, ethnic backgrounds, sexual orientations, and
- 8 neighborhoods.
- 9 (c) Domestic violence is not limited to actual and threatened
- 10 physical acts of violence, but also includes sexual abuse, stalking,
- 11 psychological and emotional abuse, financial control, property
- 12 control, and other behaviors by the abuser that are designed to
- 13 exert coercive control and power over the victim.
- 14 (d) There is a positive correlation between domestic violence
- 15 and child abuse, and children, even when they are not physically
- 16 assaulted, suffer deep and lasting emotional, health, and behavioral
- 17 effects from exposure to domestic violence.
- 18 (e) Domestic violence victims face significant barriers to safely
- 19 leaving an abusive relationship, including, but not limited to, a

1 risk of retaliation and escalated violence by the abuser, concerns
2 over the safety and custody of their children, an impending loss
3 of financial support and housing, the responsibility for other
4 household members and pets, and difficulties accessing legal and 5 community systems to seek protection from abuse.

6 (f) Studies have shown that obtaining a civil protective order
7 against an abuser can increase a victim's safety, decrease a victim's
8 fear of future harm, and improve a victim's overall sense of well
9 being and self-esteem.

10 (g) Because the issuance of civil protective orders often results
11 in declines in domestic violence, public money spent on protective
12 order intervention produces significant cost savings to society,
13 including decreasing victims' time off from work, property loss,
14 use of health services, and use of community, legal, and criminal
15 justice interventions.

16 (h) Civil protective orders are most effective when they offer
17 comprehensive relief to address the various barriers victims face
18 when safely separating from an abuser, are specific in their terms,
19 and are consistently enforced.

20 (i) For these reasons, the effective issuance and enforcement of 21 civil protective orders are of paramount importance in the State
22 of California as a means for promoting safety, reducing violence
23 and abuse, and preventing serious injury and death.

24 SEC. 2. Section 6203 of the Family Code is amended to read:

25 6203. (a) For purposes of this act, "abuse" means any of the 26 following:

27 (1) Intentionally or recklessly to cause or attempt to cause bodily
28 injury.

29 (2) Sexual assault.

30 (3) To place a person in reasonable apprehension of imminent
31 serious bodily injury to that person or to another.

32 (4) To engage in any behavior that has been or could be enjoined
33 pursuant to Section 6320.

34 (b) Abuse is not limited to the actual infliction of physical injury
35 or assault.

36 SEC. 3. Section 6220 of the Family Code is amended to read:

37 6220. The purpose of this division is to prevent acts of domestic 38 violence, abuse, and sexual abuse and to provide for a separation
39 of the persons involved in the domestic violence for a period

1 sufficient to enable these persons to seek a resolution of the causes
2 of the violence.

3 SEC. 4. Section 6300 of the Family Code is amended to read:

4 6300. An order may be issued under this part, with or without
5 notice, to restrain any person for the purpose specified in Section
6 6220, if an affidavit or testimony and any additional information
7 provided to the court pursuant to Section 6306, shows, to the 8 satisfaction of the court, reasonable proof of a past act or acts of 9 abuse. The court may issue an order under this part based solely 10 on the affidavit or testimony of the person requesting the restraining 11 order.

12 SEC. 5. Section 6301 of the Family Code is amended to read:

13 6301. (a) An order under this part may be granted to any person
14 described in Section 6211, including a minor pursuant to 15 subdivision (b) of Section 372 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

16 (b) The right to petition for relief shall not be denied because 17 the petitioner has vacated the household to avoid abuse, and in the 18 case of a marital relationship, notwithstanding that a petition for 19 dissolution of marriage, for nullity of marriage, or for legal 20 separation of the parties has not been filed.

21 (c) The length of time since the most recent act of abuse is not,
22 by itself, determinative. The court shall consider the totality of the 23 circumstances in determining whether a petition for relief will be 24 granted or denied.

25 SEC. 6. Section 6305 of the Family Code is amended to read:

26 6305. (a) The court shall not issue a mutual order enjoining
27 the parties from specific acts of abuse described in Section 6320
28 unless both of the following apply:

29 (1) Both parties personally appear and each party presents
30 written evidence of abuse or domestic violence.

31 (2) The court makes detailed findings of fact indicating that
32 both parties acted as a primary aggressor and that neither party
33 acted primarily in self-defense.

34 (b) For purposes of subdivision (a), in determining if both parties
35 acted primarily as aggressors, the court shall consider the 36 provisions concerning dominant aggressors set forth in paragraph
37 (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 836 of the Penal Code.

38 SEC. 7. Section 6340 of the Family Code is amended to read:

39 6340. (a) The court may issue any of the orders described in 40 Article 1 (commencing with Section 6320) after notice and a

1 hearing. When determining whether to make any orders under this
2 subdivision, the court shall consider whether failure to make any 3 of these orders may jeopardize the safety of the petitioner and the 4 children for whom the custody or visitation orders are sought. If 5 the court makes any order for custody, visitation, or support, that 6 order shall survive the termination of any protective order. The 7 Judicial Council shall provide notice of this provision on any
8 Judicial Council forms related to this subdivision.

9 (b) The court shall, upon ~~approving or denying~~ a petition under 10 this part, provide a brief statement of the reasons for the decision
11 in writing or on the record. A decision stating ~~“granted” or “denied”~~
12 is insufficient.

13 (c) The court may issue an order described in Section 6321
14 excluding a person from a dwelling if the court finds that physical 15 or emotional harm would otherwise result to the other party, to a 16 person under the care, custody, and control of the other party, or 17 to a minor child of the parties or of the other party.
